Player Instruction

➢ Soldiers cannot be positioned blocking the passageway of enemy battle tanks.

➢ Soldiers have the maximum range of shooting. If the soldiers are positioned far from the enemy battle tanks, they will not be able to attack the enemies and it will not be able to move the stationed soldiers again to another location.

➢ Position the soldiers close to the enemy battle tanks at all times.

➢ You will get 100 points at the beginning.

➢ You have to spend 50 points to deploy one soldier to the battlefield.

➢ Therefore, you can deploy only two soldiers at the beginning.

➢ When you destroy an enemy battle tank, you will receive 20 points,

➢ When the number of points you get increases, you can increase the number of soldiers and each time when you position one soldier, 50 points from your total points will be reduced.
  E.g.   Total score/pints = 150
       Cost to position a new soldier = 50
       Then your total new score/point = 150-50
                              = 100

➢ When one enemy battle tank passes the main entrance of the Royal palace, you will lose 20 points,

➢ When 5 enemy battle tanks pass through the main entrance of the Royal palace, the enemies will blast the Royal palace and you will lose the game.

➢ Five gunshots must be fired up to destroy the first enemy battle tank and 6 gunshots shots must be fired to destroy the second battle tank, accordingly, number of shots required to destroy enemy battle tanks will be increased comparative to the   increase in the number of battle tanks.

➢ At the second level, enemy battle tanks march forward on randomly selected routes. Soldiers can be stationed anywhere blocking the passage of enemy battle tanks. Then the enemy battle tanks will change their route and find a new route.

➢ At this time, battle tanks will arrive a little faster than the first Level.

➢ You will win the first level when you get 500 points.

➢ You will win the 2nd level when you get 1000 points,
